STUDIO

We have established our London team to work closely with our customers and provide service on-site.

FACTORY

The complete autonomy over the production enables us to ensure innovation, quality and flexibility.

QUALITY

No compromises: we work according to the highest European standards to achieve excellent results.

SERVICE

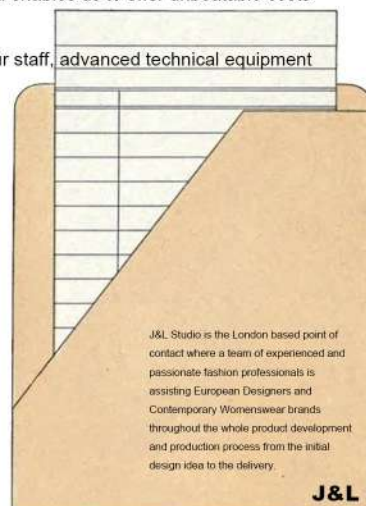

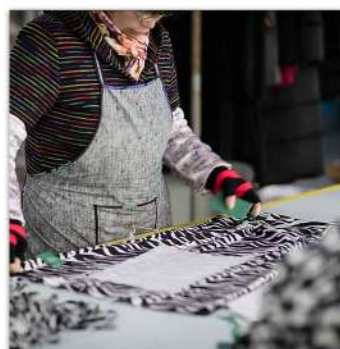

We are a full-service provider, assisting our customers from design to the final production stage.

The complete autonomy over manufacturing enables us to provide continuous innovation and quality to our clients. We are producing our garments sustainably and in consideration of the highest social and ecological standards. With a highly experienced and educated production team and our in-house pattern cutting, we ensure the fit and quality standard of every single garment.

Our factory is located in the 'silk region' of China with extensive sourcing capabilities. Our strong network within this particular garment area enables us to offer unbeatable costs and quality standards for the production of silk-based garments.

To maintain our high level of quality and guarantee perfection across the fabric, fit, sewing, fit, color and print quality, we are investing in our staff, advanced technical equipment and quality management.

J&L

Our garment factory with in-house fabric production facility is located in Suzhou, Shengze, one of the leading regions for Silk fabric manufacturing. Over the past decade, we have developed expertise in Silk fabric and production what enables us to offer the highest level of quality and flexibility to our clients.

Silk is a natural fibre, made from proteins secreted in the fluid state as single filament by a silkworm. It is one of the most luxurious fibres with its lustrous finish, mainly used for the production of woven garments including dresses, blouses, skirts, jackets and pants within premium and luxury .womenswear.

SILK IS OUR EXPERTISE.

Chiffon

An ultra-lightweight plain-weave fabric made from tightly twisted fibre. It's semi-transparent with a slightly rough feel, smoother and more lustrous than georgette

Silk satin

A satin-weave fabric, woven in a variety of different weights with a smooth, glossy surface and a dull surface on the inside.

Crêpe-de-chine

A lightweight, plain-weave, smooth silk fabric which drapes well. It has a matt texture and muted lustre.

Crêpe Georgette

A lightweight, loosely woven sheer fabric made from highly twisted yarns. With its crinkled surface, it is manufactured in plain and patterned versions.

Devoré velvet

A luxurious, textured, lightweight silk fabric which is treated with an acid to burn away the nap to reveal a pattern

Organza

A very fine, sheer plain-weave lightweight silk fabric with a sheen. It's woven from highly twisted threads to make it strong.

Velvet

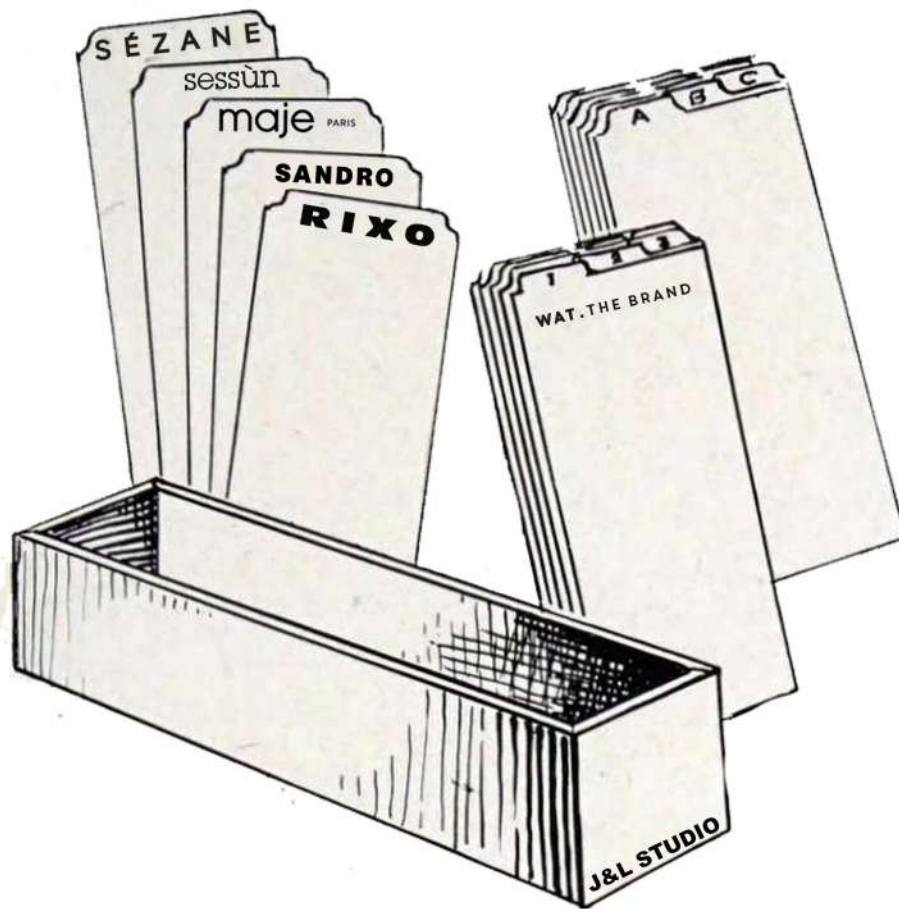

A medium- to heavy-weight silk fabric with a soft, luxurious feel. It's made with short thread loops that are cut to form a dense pile or nap which lies in one direction.

Washed Silk

A light- to medium-weight fabric which drapes well. It's been washed in fabric softeners to make it soft and slightly faded in appearance.

PORTFOLIO

A showcase of bespoke garments production to perfection for our valued clients. From elegant evening wear to sophisticated daily wear, each piece exemplifies our commitment to craftsmanship and individualized service. Experience the epitome of personalized style with our curated collection.
